

Projected 2009-2010-2011 Distance Learning Course Offerings

(subject to change)

	2009 FALL	2010 SPRING	2010 SUMMER	2010 FALL	2011 SPRING	2011 SUMMER
*BIB203 Theology of the Bible I	X		X	X
*BIB213 Theology of the Bible II		X			X
BIB223 Principles of Biblical Reasoning			X			X
*CLA103 College-Level Writing Skills	X	X	X	X	X	X
CLA201 Research and Writing	X	X		X	X
CLA213 Logic	X			X
*CLA223 Rhetoric	X		X	X		X
ECO303 Economics for the Citizen		X		X		X
GOV203 Constitutional Law		X	X		X	X
GOV213 Freedom's Foundations I	X			X
GOV223 Freedom's Foundations II		X			X
*HIS203 History of the U.S. I	X			X		X
*HIS213 History of the U.S. II		X			X
HIS223 History of Western Civ I	X			X
HIS233 History of Western Civ II		X			X
LIT213 Western Literature I	X			X
LIT223 Western Literature II		X	X		X	X
MAT203 Euclidean Geometry	X		X		X
PHI203 Philosophy		X			X
Greek	X	X	X	X	X	X
Latin	X	X	X	X	X	X

*It is recommended that non-degree-seeking students begin by taking these introductory courses.

Recommended Course Sequencing for Degree-Seeking Campus @ Home students:

Fall 1

CLA201 Research and Writing
 CLA213 Logic
 HIS203 U.S. History I
 CLA223 Rhetoric
 BIB203 Biblical Theology I

Spring 1

BIB213 Biblical Theology II
 HIS213 U.S. History II
 HIS233 History of Western Civilization II
 PHI203 Philosophy

Summer 1 or Summer 2

BIB223 Principles of Biblical Reasoning

Fall 2

HIS223 History of Western Civilization I
 GOV213 Freedom's Foundations I
 LIT213 Western Literature I
 ECO303 Economics for the Citizen

Spring 2

GOV223 Freedom's Foundations II
 GOV203 Con Law
 MAT203 Euclidean Geometry
 LIT223 Western Literature II

Summer 1 or Summer 2

BIB223 Principles of Biblical Reasoning

Language requirement: Students intending to be Classical Liberal Arts majors may also complete their Latin or Greek courses. Students intending to be Government or Journalism majors may also complete their modern foreign language requirement at another college.